

Consultant Job Description

Consultants at EMC typically have 2-3 years' relevant experience following graduation from (usually) a post graduate degree. In the past, these have included finance, economics, law, information science or a social research discipline. Many new consultants join us with the specific desire to gain frontier market experience, move to consulting generally or in to the development sector specifically.

New consultants have the opportunity for rapid development, through the accumulation of hard and soft skills and responsibility for key elements of project work. This may include leading on important client deliverables or coaching junior team members on task execution. Within the course of 2 years, it is likely you will have worked significantly on 20+ projects, in each of the Mekong countries, and further afield.

Please send cover letter and curriculum vitae / resume to Hour Thany at recruiting@emergingmarkets.asia "September 2018: Consultant Application".
